MESSAGE TO THE PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES OF 1994

Dear Graduates:

Zora Neale Hurston, our noted folklorist, writer and anthropologist once said,

"Like the dead-seeming, cold rocks, I have memories within that came out of the material that went to make me. Time and place have had their say."

Your passage through the portals of the Plainfield School system will constitute a large part of your memory bank and what made you. The schools are indeed part of your heritage. You should remember that you are from a proud collection of schools that held you in high esteem and that you spring from a tradition of fine graduates who have made themselves known throughout the world. Plainfield High School yielded a Rhodes Scholar during your stay and many other graduates who distinguished themselves in higher education, military service and employment.

I expect that years from now you, too, will look back and embrace the material that made you stand tall and make whatever contributions you could to a better quality of life for those who followed you.

Your parents, teachers, administrators and friends celebrate you on this day of accomplishment and urge that you achieve more significant milestones in the near future. Time and place will have had their say for you as well and you will continue to make us proud.

Yours in the Struggle,

Ronald Frye, Ed.D.
Acting Superintendent of Schools

Dear Graduating Seniors:

After four years of conscientious, hard work you are about to be rewarded upon your graduation as a member of the Plainfield High School Graduating Class of 1994. This is not the end; rather, it is the beginning. I sincerely hope that your formal education will continue after you leave our school.

A change is about to impact upon all of you that encompasses not only your own careers but the future of our nation. You are among the initial group of five or six remaining graduation classes in the 1990s that will lead our nation into the Twenty-first Century. The tremendous challenge before you - economically, socially, politically, and perhaps most overwhelmingly-technologically - is an incredible one. All of you have an opportunity to make the most positive impact on the present and future history of our country. I am confident that you will rise to the challenge before you. You represent the hope that our nation has to maintain its status as a leader in the world today.

The administrative, supervisory, instructional and support staff of Plainfield High School wish you every success, health and happiness, always - in all ways.

Sincerely,

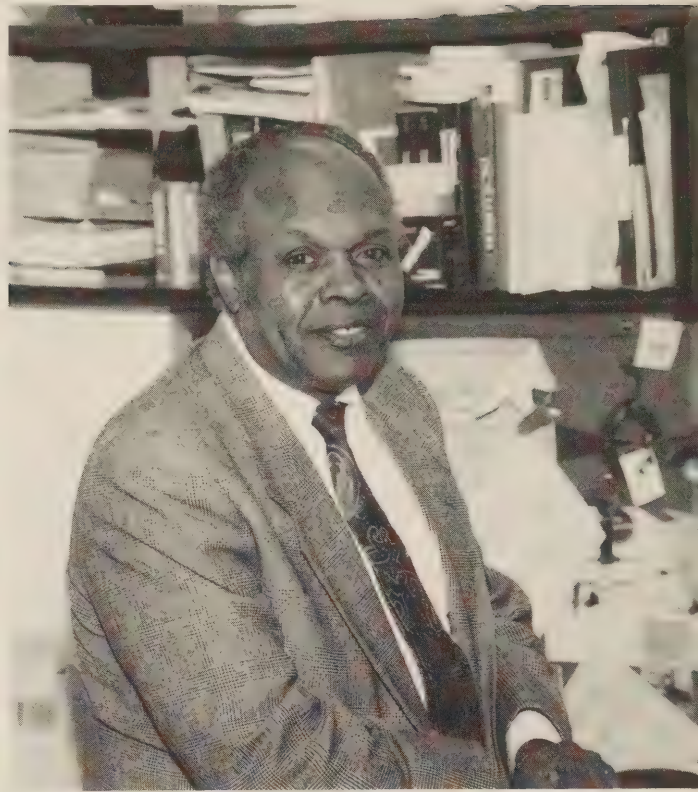

Lance S. Rozsa

Take an After-dinner Tour of the World

Have you and your family ever toured the world, of an evening? You can. You can go to Venice, to Holland, to Spain and Morocco. You can sail the Grand Canal of the old Italian city of Venice and there you can see the diamond-cutters at work in Amsterdam, the artists at work in Paris, the old pictures and tapestries and the great old houses that are the glory of the Netherlands. You need only a Rand McNally Atlas of the World and you are off and where you will see the Roman Forum, the Colosseum, the Vatican Museums, the Sistine Chapel, the Vatican Museums, the Vatican Museums, the Vatican Museums. There is no education but the whole family can learn while they are at a game.

Beware of Fat

Do you know what the weight of your body is? Do you know what the weight of your body is? Do you know what the weight of your body is?

What a strange thought! You are a man or a woman, a child or a baby, and you are a part of the world. You are a part of the world. You are a part of the world.

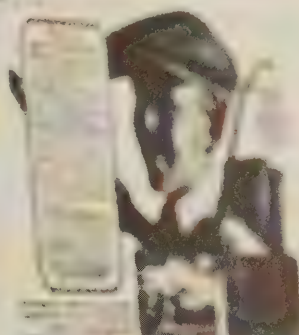

Up to the point of the weight of your body is a matter of the weight of your body. Up to the point of the weight of your body is a matter of the weight of your body.

The reason is simple. The weight of your body is a matter of the weight of your body. The reason is simple. The weight of your body is a matter of the weight of your body.

So, the next time you are looking at the weight of your body, you will be looking at the weight of your body. So, the next time you are looking at the weight of your body, you will be looking at the weight of your body.

There are many ways to keep your body in good health. There are many ways to keep your body in good health. There are many ways to keep your body in good health.
